TWO TEEN-AGE
BOYS CONFESS
TWO SLAYINGSJUSTICE WILL MOVE SWIFTLY
FOR KILLERS

James Varecha And
Bert Arnold Held
By Police

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(P)—Two teen-age boys, caught in the coils of a law that forbids murder, waited in cells tonight for the punishment of the killer.

The one bold, boastful, conscienceless, James "Icky" Varecha, twice an inmate of a state institution for epileptics and now, at 17, the confessed murderer who shot to death Frank Jordan in a midnight gun spree and then, it is alleged, abducted and attacked the niece of a deputy police commissioner.

The other slight, mild-mannered, 16-year-old Bert Arnold, self-contained as he admitted hammering to death the grandfather who chided him, willing under the protective arm his father laid, comforting, about his shoulders.

Justice Moves Swiftly
Justice moved more swiftly than Justice sometimes does in Chicago to take away Varecha, the fugitive from a state hospital.

Indictment for the crimes of murder, assault to kill, shooting, and robbery came at noon. Evidence of the alleged attacks upon the girl he kidnapped Wednesday night was withheld, extensively because she was not yet able to confront a grand jury with her story.

At 2 p. m. Varecha went before Chief Justice John Prystalski in criminal court. Yesterday it had been: "take my picture lighting a cigarette to show how calm I am." But Braggadoos was gone now, and before the judge stood a cringing, drooping lad, hands fidgeting a grey cap, lips mumbling answers to the routine questions of the court. He nodded without glancing up at the call of his name.

"Not guilty," he murmured to the indictment for murder. Had he a lawyer? No, nor relatives in court although his mother had been notified to come. A brother Frank, summoned from an ante-room where he was held under suspicion of helping the "Icky's" kill, said they had no money. The court appointed a public defender, Walker Butler, assistant state's attorney expressed a wish to try Varecha at once. The boy was led away to his cell. Wednesday he will be arraigned for trial.

What quakes of mind impelled these youngsters?

Alienists Watch
Alienists stood as they confessed, "Icky," swearing, had said he'd get 99 years, never the "chair," for hadn't he been sent up to the state hospital twice?

Alienists watched for the coroner and the state as young Arnold was brought back from Mt. Carroll, Ill., to a broken-hearted father and step-mother who could scarcely speak the comfort they meant to impart. In their embrace, unapproaching, he sobbed bitterly. It seemed that only then he began to realize the tragedy of which he was the center.

"A superior boy," the Riverside Presbyterian minister had said of him, almost unbelieving the lad had confessed his grandmother's killing. "Superior in purpose and intellect. If he did this dastardly crime, it was in a frenzy."

IS NEEDED BY
RELIEF GROUPEmergency Commission Makes Report
To Legislature

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21.—Facing an increase of unemployment that today includes between 1,500,000 and 1,400,000 or more than two-fifths of all the gainful workers in Illinois, the Illinois emergency relief commission late today advised the fourth special session of the general assembly that $49,000,000 is needed for unemployment relief in the next seven months.

Four millions of that amount will be obtained from the motor fuel tax allotment for relief purposes, two million by Cook county and two million for other counties. Forty-five million must come from other sources, not including charity drives, or local general property taxes for relief, for use beginning with December.

The commission's report emphasized that counties must exhaust their available allotments from the motor fuel tax first, before receiving allocations from federal or state relief funds. This ruling, the report said, was put into effect this month.

Beyond the forty-five million that must be provided by the state or federal government for the next seven months, the commission added that at least thirty-one million additional will be needed for the last seven months next year, unless there is a marked improvement in employment conditions in the near future.

This report was made to the legislature by Edwin L. Ryerson, of Chicago, chairman of the commission, and other members from Chicago, who met with Governor Emmerson, Governor-elect Henry Horner and sixty house and senate members in a conference in Speaker Shanahan's office.

Governor Emmerson urged "action" without naming the three items of relief legislation before the assembly, and Governor-elect Horner, Mayor Cermak of Chicago and Senators Barr and Barbour also spoke, naming the three measures.

"We must have some legislation," Mayor Cermak said. "We cannot adjourn this legislature without providing a means to continue relief in Cook county." Senator Barr, Republican of Joliet made an impassioned plea for the bills, and Governor-elect Horner who was called on after him, said Senator Barr had delivered his speech.

"This is an emergency," the governor-elect said, "and an emergency calls for purposeful and courageous action."

Chairman Ryerson of the relief commission reported that the burden of relief was growing heavier, that the demands were being made now than ever before for family relief.

Representative Elmer Schnakenberg, Republican, Chicago, who has opposed the Meents bill for non-referendum county bond issue for relief, which is one of the three items approved by each speaker, promised to withdraw his opposition if the bill were amended to exempt Cook county from its provisions.

Leaders for the bill, immediately refused his offer. When the conference adjourned, the Meents bill was called first, and the roll call proceeded with speech-making.

Dr. Griffin, who said he was up all of last night, declined to amplify on his original short statement for the present.

Dreier, who identified Col. Robins late Friday in the persons of Raymond H. Rogers, bewhiskered and overall clad boarder in a $4 a week hostelry at Whittier, a mountain village 60 miles from here, said Robins had greeted him by name. His uncle, he said, admitted his identity.

Previously, Col. Robins had insisted that he was in fact Rogers, and that his identification as the missing driver and philanthropist, was a "monumental mistake."

When Mrs. Robins first faced him, after a hurried trip by train and automobile from their Brookville, Fla., home, Col. Robins turned to Dr. Griffin, and said, "I don't know the lady."

The official statement said "Col. Robins is still in need of rest and will not be disturbed."

Hospital attendants continued to shield Col. Robins from outsiders. They said he still wore the beard and overall costume with which residents of Whittier had become so familiar during the ten weeks he lived there, spending his time in tramping over the mountains and prospecting.

FIRE AT MARENGO
Marengo, Ill., Nov. 21.—(P)—Fire which threatened the entire downtown district at noon today destroyed four frame business houses with a loss of $30,000, police said.

John Plukas' pool hall, James White's confectionery, Robert Stier's shoe store and Dr. John Fowler's office were ruined by the flames which apparently started from chimney sparks. The fire was confined to a half block on State street, and was extinguished in an hour.

NAME DIRECTORS
Baltimore, Nov. 21.—(P)—Two new directors were selected at the annual meeting of stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad here today.

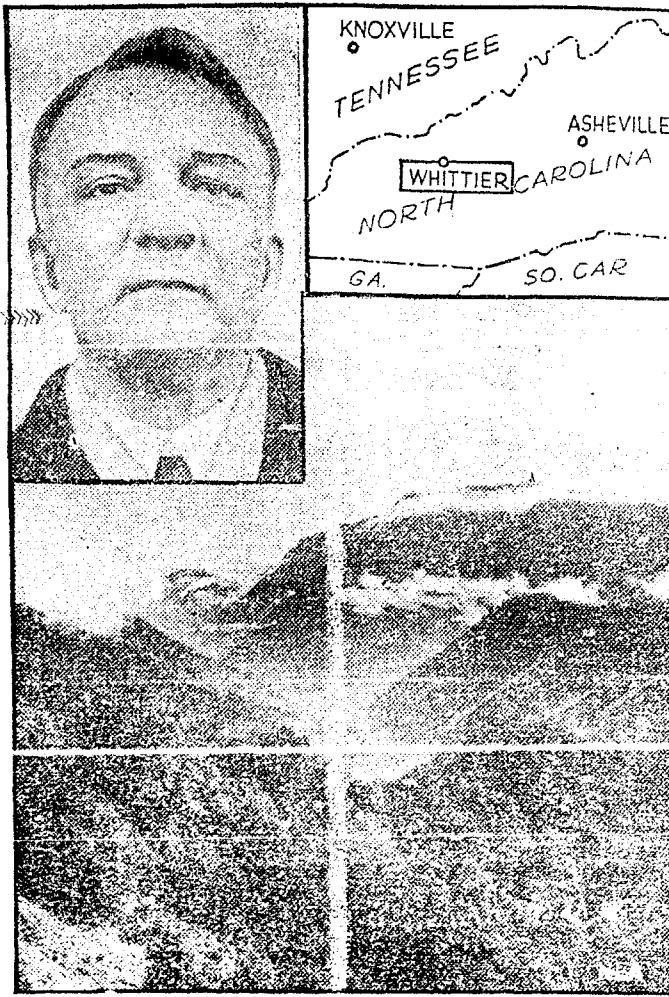

John D. Hertz, formerly of Chicago but recently moved to New York, and Carl A. Degersdorff, of New York, were named to succeed Paul M. Warburg, who recently resigned, and Bernard M. Brauch, who resigned from the board.

SOCIETY MEETS
Mt. Vernon, Ill., Nov. 21.—(P)—The fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Southern Illinois Horticultural Society opened here today with President John A. Case, of Mt. Vernon, presiding.

The election of officers will be held at the closing session tomorrow.

COL. ROBINS FOUND ALIVE

In the wild, rugged Great Smoky mountains of North Carolina, Colonel Raymond Robins, dry crusader and friend of President Hoover, was found alive and safe, masquerading as "Raymond Rogers," Robins, upper left, has been mysteriously missing since early September and rumors that a gang of bootleggers might have murdered him led to an intensive search. The location of Whittier, isolated mountain hamlet 60 miles from Asheville, where Robins was found, is indicated on the map, upper right, and the primitiveness of the region is shown below. Robins, who had grown a beard, was in good health. He was closely guarded by federal agents who located him.

PROBLEM UP

Says Obligations
Not Broken

By P. I. Linsey, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Correspondent
Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 21.—(P)—Examination by the league of nations council of the Manchurian problem in the light of the Lytton report began today with a sharp duel of debate, in which Japan's spokesman denied that his government had broken any of its international obligations and the representative of China declared that as a result of Japanese invasion "the ruthless slaughter of Chinese citizens and the wanton destruction of Chinese property are still going on."

From special reporting seats the Lytton commissioners heard Yosuke Matsuoka, for Japan, reject their finding that Japan's military action in Manchuria was unjustified, while Dr. Wellington Koo, for China, upheld their conclusion. General Frank McCoy, American member of the commission, said with his colleagues.

The Japanese spokesman pleaded for patience and for acceptance of Japan's policy. The Chinese delegate appealed for "redress for China's wrongs."

Mr. Matsuoka denounced China as a land of disorder, and Dr. Koo replied that Japan had consistently interfered with China's efforts toward unification.

Mr. Matsuoka condemned the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods as a land of disorder, and Dr. Koo replied that Japan had consistently interfered with China's efforts toward unification.

The Japanese spokesman said that in the Mukden attack of Sept. 18, 1931, (the incident which precipitated the conflict) the Japanese acted justifiably in self-defense. Dr. Koo agreed with the Lytton commissioners that this was not so.

The establishment of the independent state of Manchukuo to rule Manchuria was a spontaneous movement by the people of Manchuria, Mr. Matsuoka said. Dr. Koo supported the commission's view that it was entirely the work of the Japanese.

The council adjourned until Wednesday afternoon to permit the members to study the Chinese and Japanese declarations. During Dr. Koo's discourse Joseph Paul-Boncour, French war minister, took a short nap and Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, a long one.

Both the Oriental champions spoke in English. Each of them is a graduate of an American university—Mr. Matsuoka of Oregon, and Dr. Koo of Pennsylvania and Columbia.

National Master Of Grange Outlines
Program

(Editor's Note: American agriculture today stands in the threshold of a supreme effort to attain public and private sources to better the farmer's lot. What farm leader think should be done and what they will work for as a new Congress and a new national administration impends is told in a series of articles of which the following is the last.)

By L. A. Brophy,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Chicago, Nov. 21.—(P)—L. J. Taber, national master of the Grange, thinks the war debts foreign nations owe the United States can be used to help stabilize American agriculture.

"New uses should be found for farm products and, above all, foreign markets must be preserved and in most cases re-established," he said today.

"This means that the war debts must not be cancelled but used to build trade, rather than to destroy it, giving debtor nations credit on their debts for a certain per cent of their total purchases of farm products."

Need Organization.
Speaking as the representative of the Grange, founded 66 years ago as the aftermath of conditions similar to those now existing, Mr. Taber asserted that better rural organization was the key to agricultural recovery.

"The farmer cannot live in organized society without gearing his development to the progress of the age," he said. "Every invention, every discovery, all scientific research, the forces of mass production and chain distribution are constantly adding to the handicaps of unorganized agriculture."

In spite of progress in co-operative marketing, income tax legislation, the expansion in education and development in education and development in research, rural inequality continues.

"The first step in bettering the farmer is organization. One million speeches on farm relief in Congress are just a repetition of what has gone before. A million members in the Grange, however, means a fighting working addition to rural forces adding to morale and stabilizing rural life."

Handicaps placed in the way of agriculture by the government must be removed. The same type of machinery must be developed for agriculture that others enjoy. Education, organization and co-operation are the essential keys to the unlocking of a better day.

"The farmer legislative program is two fold. First, steps to meet the emergency must be taken, and a long term program of building for the future of rural life."

"First and most important in the emergency program is the lifting of prices. The farmer is selling on a market about 50 per cent below pre-war prices and buying at 10 per cent above. The price of farm supplies, 150 per cent on transportation and 250 per cent for taxes."

"Until this inequality is corrected distress will prevail. We insist upon some such legislation as the export decontrol, the domestic allotment plan and policy made in an amendment to the marketing act. This act should be retained but the stabilization feature should be eliminated and price lifting facilities added."

Ruinous prices have caused a breakdown of rural credit agencies and this calls for revamping the federal farm loan act and providing means to reduce interest charges and give deserving farmers a fighting chance to save their homes."

"This legislation cannot wait. Rural foreclosures must be checked. Interest charges must be reduced. Reduction of governmental costs through reorganization, tax simplification and economy can be of immediate service in lightening the farmer's tax load."

The base of taxation must be broadened.

"Last and in some respects most important in the emergency program come steps to provide monetary stabilization to give a fairer measure of value than we have yet developed. Our breakdown has not been because of lack of raw materials or lack of potential consumers but primarily because a fluctuating medium of exchange has prevented the free flow of commodities."

"A long term program of reorganization and planning must keep pace with the emergency methods. A sound land policy must be inaugurated. We must give greater attention to the forestry and conservation. The recreation uses of land must be considered. Millions of acres of marginal and submarginal lands must be taken into forestry or other conservation uses."

"A better marketing system must be developed by building larger unit co-operatives which can take products from the farmer as near the ultimate consumer as is practical. We must give the farmer a larger part of what the consumer pays."

"New uses should be found for farm products and, above all, foreign markets must be preserved and in most cases re-established. This means that the war debts must not be can-

COMMISSION ON WAR DEBTS MAY BE REVIVED

Definite Program Is Already Prepared
By Hoover

Washington, Nov. 21.—(P)—Prepared for tomorrow's momentous debt talk with Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Hoover tonight held ready to place upon that conference table a definite program possibly to include recommendations for revival of the war debt commission.

Even as the chief executive rounded out his plans in a series of parleys with his seconds and advisors, however, renewed opposition to the re-creation of the debt commission resounded on Capitol Hill.

Meanwhile, also, another twist was added to the already complex debt problem as Czechoslovakia deposited at the state department—alongside those of Great Britain, France and Belgium—the note asking suspension of its $1,500,000 payment due December 15.

Secretary Mills, who will assist the president tomorrow, conferred twice with him today. Whether Mr. Hoover may abandon his previous sponsorship of re-establishing the debt commission must be developed in the national opposition, the treasury secretary would not say. Interrogated by newspapermen, he said, smiling:

"Such an organization would be very helpful right now."

Mills forecast three possibilities arising from tomorrow's meeting, a joint program evolved by the president and the president-elect, a program sent to Capitol Hill by Mr. Hoover, or suggestions given by Mr. Roosevelt to Democratic leaders and acted by Congress.

During the White House aides shifted plans for the reception to the New York governor. The scene of the meeting was changed from the executive offices, as originally planned, and set instead for the Lincoln study on the second floor of the White House proper.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt, after his train arrives at 3:30 p. m., can drive directly into the south grounds of the mansion as he and other state executives did when invited to dinner following the governors' conference in Richmond, Va. The elevator is located near this driveway entrance, which would carry the president-elect close to the conference room.

Details of the chief executive plans for dealing with the foreign debt angle were as closely guarded as ever during the day as he conferred for more than an hour with Secretary Stimson and even longer with Mills.

It was taken as certain, however, that Mr. Hoover will speak of European disarmament in close connection with his talk of debts. The possibility was voiced unofficially that this might be a counter proposal to foreign debtor requests for relief, involving his own proposal for a one-third slash in world arms.

Still another allied subject probably will be a suggested date for the world monetary and economic conference. The president feels that since this parley will continue into the new administration, Mr. Roosevelt should have a hand in arranging American participation. Norman H. Davis and other American experts empowered to make preliminary arrangements for the world conference have not yet reached a conclusion as to a possible date. Premier Ramsay MacDonald has suggested December, but an opening in January or February has been spoken of more frequently in Geneva.

During the day on Capitol Hill the list of the senatorial delegation of six invited to talk debts with the president on Wednesday reached Washington. They were Watson, (R., Ind.) and King, (D., Utah). Virtually all of the six ranking Republican and Democratic members of the House have been named to the delegation. EXAMINATION
OF RECORDS
IS UNDERWAY

Local Institution Is Or-

F. W. McRoberts, who has acted as the receiver of the Quincy-Ricker bank at Quincy, Ill., was appointed receiver for the Ayers national bank yesterday. Appointment of Mr. McRoberts was made by F. A. Auld, acting comptroller of currency, at Washington, D. C., following the failure of the local bank to open its doors yesterday morning. Mr. McRoberts will arrive in the city this morning to take over the examination of the records of the Ayers National bank, which were in charge of John F. Lilly, national bank examiner, who came here from St. Louis.

The closing of the bank, which at the time of its last statement on Sept. 30, 1932, had resources of more than eight million dollars, came as a blow to the community. Within a few minutes after the notice were posted at nine o'clock yesterday morning, hundreds of persons throughout the city had heard the word.

Since nine o'clock Monday morning the bank's depositors and general assistants have been asking but one question: "Is there any chance for an immediate reopening of the bank?" This must go unanswered for the present, as bank officials declared that nothing definite can be determined until the bank examiner and his assistants are ready to report.

Certain officials, however, expressed optimism. The closing may be a temporary action. Should there be a resumption of business or a reorganization in the near future the closure would not result in great inconvenience to depositors.

National Examiner Here
National Bank Examiner Lilly and county assistants, Harry Finn and John Mars, were in charge of the bank Monday. Several officials were at their desks, but without an idea of when business will be resumed.

The bank is a member of the federal reserve system, a postal savings depository and United States depository.

Examiner Lilly did not make a statement upon taking charge of the business. Neither was there a statement from officials aside from the fact that nothing definite could be said at this time.

Since the Ayers National bank has occupied a prominent position in the financial structure of central Illinois, its president is Millard F. Dunlap, and a number of the county's best known men are members of the board of directors.

Through the present depression it has been regarded as a power of strength. In recent years the bank has merged several smaller institutions including the Farrell State bank and the Woodson State bank.

The city's two other banking houses are open for business as usual with business conditions normal.

Members of the board of directors of the Ayers National bank are: H. M. Capps, M. F. Dunlap, W. G. Goebel, Owen P. Thompson, Andrew Russell, R. L. Dunlap, George Detrick, H. K. Chenoweth and E. E. Crabtree.

The bank's statement of condition at the close of business Sept. 30 was:

Book Curiosities

In the MacMurray College library there is a collection of old books, many of them centuries old, which are of interest to the ordinary reader who contemplates himself with a perusal of newspapers and magazines. These books date from the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. They are no doubt more entertaining for the modern than for the people of their day, they furnish plenty of intellectual meat.

One of these books contains a poem entitled, "Thoughts on the Four Last Things." The author, who is identified as "John," writes of the "four last things," Death, Judgment, Heaven and Hell. The poem is written in a style which is not only entertaining but also instructive.

dominantly religious. Most of the books of these early days had a religious theme, as religion was then the chief concern of humanity. In some nations, notably in the Orient, religion still plays a leading role.

But it is feared a modern collection of books would not show such a prominently religious trend. The Bible still remains the "best seller," but other religious books are not so much in demand, perhaps because the sphere of reading has so broadened as to include a multitude of other subjects.

Even so, a little religious reading and a little thought on that subject would do the modern individual a lot of good. It might do him a lot of good. The restlessness and discontent, the uncertainty and tragedy in human life of today may be traced, partially at least, to a neglect of religious thinking and living.

Crimes of Youth

Two Chicago youths have confessed to brutal crimes, one an escaped epileptic 17 years of age, and the other a son of wealthy parents, a "model young man," who was considered "nice" by his friends.

The wealthy youth killed his mother, according to his confession, because she would not let him borrow her car. He said he wanted her car because he was in love with a girl. Then his mind went blank, and he did not remember anything from that time on.

The epileptic youth killed his mother because she would not let him borrow her car. He said he wanted her car because he was in love with a girl. Then his mind went blank, and he did not remember anything from that time on.

Agitated, this boy of 17 lost his self control, went into a fit of temper and committed the crime which will send him perhaps to the chair and end a career which might have seemed that of a "model young man." This was not a model case, but a product of easy circumstances and a lot of punishment.

He was used to having his own way, and as long as he had it he was of course "nice." But when he was denied something he was suddenly violent and became very disagreeable.

The other youth, who has twice been an inmate of the state epileptic colony, has two murders to his credit and another brutal crime. He escaped from the institution in 1928 and was not heard from again until he was turned up as he most certainly should have been.

Mr. Roosevelt, 'What were your campaign promises?' Mr. Hoover, 'No promises and no cancellations.' Mr. Roosevelt, 'Mine too. What do you say just for a novelty that both parties keep their campaign promises?' Mr. Hoover, 'That's OK with me. Simon bring us a cable bank draft? Europe, your applications of poverty to the U. S. government for extension on your notes is respectfully denied as the taxpayers at home whom we borrowed the money from are demanding it. If we don't receive it from you we have no possible way of refunding it to them. We hope this is quite clear. Yours respectfully, Hoover and Roosevelt representing U. S. government.'

REV. TISDALL OF QUINCY SPEAKS AT MACMURRAY

Rev. J. J. Tisdall of Quincy addressed the student body and many visitors of MacMurray College at the Thanksgiving vespers Nov. 20. Rev. Tisdall was reminded of his childhood days when he had to attend a state church. On Thanksgiving the choir boys took baskets of food to the homes of the needy and to the hospitals. Worship is in the heart of everyone so they should thank God for our land of plenty.

They should also thank God for the depression. Before the depression, American people were considering luxuries as absolute necessities. The American people were far better off than the people of Europe. Everyone was expected to become millionaires, multi-millionaires, and perhaps billionaires. Everything was done in regard to the almighty dollar. Then came the depression and brought many to their senses with a jar.

There are many complaints about the depression. For example, a person is not allowed as much allowance, does not get as many new clothes, and he suffers many deprivations. However, he has more time to study and to spend on special things. Even Wall Street is becoming spiritual, so thank God for the depression. It furnished a lot of wisdom.

Offer unto God thanks for all things. There is never a cloud without a silver lining, a picture without beauty, or a harmony without a lasting chord. Thank God for this land of liberty where one is free to do as he pleases as long as he obeys certain necessary laws. People here are allowed to think and the country would be better off and have more to be thankful for, in spite of the fact that they at least have possibilities of thought.

Freedom is the downfall of the American people. Each person thinks that he is "it," but he isn't. Some people think that recovery of the American people depends on a certain political party or on a certain religious denomination. What is necessary is brotherhood. They have been thinking a storm has started and they have to swim through the swift current of depression.

Thank God that Christ was human. Jesus Christ stands today as a personification of goodness and manhood. Thank God for an artistic sense. Pity the man who cannot see beauty because his eyes have been blinded.

Dr. Tisdall also stated that they should thank God for their school, their family, and those who make their school possible. Thank God for music, beauty and harmonious discord. Thank God for those who broaden us Thanksgiving. Offer unto God thanksgiving. Lift your arms and give thanks. Possibilities of the future lie ahead for humanity linked with God.

His Own Youthful Hardships Lead 'Slim' Summerville to Adopt Baby Boy

Remembering his own hardships as a boy, when he hunted for his father, Slim Summerville, movie comedian, adopted this baby. Slim and the seven-month-old boy, who was named Elliot George Summerville, seems to have reached a perfect understanding in this picture.

BY DAN THOMAS
SEA Staff Writer

Hollywood, Calif.—Slim Summerville is a proud father these days—and has been for five months. His son, Elliot George Summerville, is seven months old. You see, Elliot is Slim's adopted son, made a Summerville when he was two months old, and he is now a happy little boy.

Slim's mother died when he was six years old and he was sent to his grandmother's in Canada. During the six years he lived there he completely lost track of his father, who was a railroad conductor. And more than anything else he wanted to be with his father.

For more than two years he hoarded every penny he could get, even earning some by buying and selling tobacco and bringing them across the border into the United States and selling them for a few cents profit.

When the boy was 12 years old, he wrote to the Chief of Railway Conductors for information about his father. Eventually he received a reply giving him an address in Gary, Oklahoma. With the few dollars he had saved, he started on a journey along the way he had been told to follow. He had a long and hard journey, but he finally arrived in Gary and found that his father was waiting in Mexico.

He stayed in Gary and attended school for three years. Again he sought information about his father and was given an address in El Paso. The first time he had a substantial money didn't matter. He set out on the long journey.

RED CROSS IN THIS COUNTY CARRIES ON WORK OF MERCY

Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with the agencies which participate in the Jacksonville Community Chest.

Perhaps one of the most technical and specialized services rendered by any of the agencies which participate in the Jacksonville Community Chest is that of the American Red Cross, which has a chapter located at the City Hall. The Red Cross does not attempt to do relief work such as distributing groceries and clothing, but this work over to the Social Service League. However, through this agency the Social Service League has been able to secure three carloads of government Red Cross flour, 3229 yards of cotton goods, and is expecting another large shipment of flour within the next few weeks.

Look of funds in the local chapter has prevented a large emergency relief work. By the term emergency relief the Red Cross headquarters here mean work which must be done immediately after securing information that immediate relief is necessary. Through the liberality of local physicians and pharmacists, the Red Cross is able to carry on part of its emergency relief work such as securing medicine and hospital treatment.

It is almost impossible to list in detail the types of work done by this organization. Generally speaking, the organization takes care of ex-service men and their families, getting the benefits due them, administering these benefits, and in investigating claims.

Draw Lease From Chest

The Red Cross probably draws the least amount of money out of the Community Chest because of its curtailed emergency relief program. It is forced to pay a membership fee to the national Red Cross each year, in order to maintain its connections throughout the nation, and in order to aid in maintaining offices created to bring assistance to ex-service men. The local chapter also is set up to conduct drives for raising assistance to unfortunate victims of national disasters, such as widespread floods, earthquakes, and the like.

The local chapter probably returns more money to this community than any other agency by securing benefits for ex-service men and their families. This work requires a great amount of detailed study, investigation, and prosecution. The Red Cross gives this service free to ex-service men.

Practically every case is different in some respect thus defying classification. A large amount of study is

Relieve County of Burdens

Cases brought to the Red Cross office average approximately 125 every month. Since the depression began a large increase in the case load has followed, because ex-service men and their families have been forced to press all claims during the absence of financial difficulties. The result of pressing these cases has been that the county is not required to bear the burden of supporting ex-service men, and a large amount of the money spent for federal taxes is returned to the community in shape of benefits.

Veterans of the Civil War, Spanish-American war, and World war are cared for by the Red Cross. Regular Army and Navy nurses also are cared for. These cases involve the wives, widows, children, and dependents of ex-service men, thus covering a large number of people.

The cases handled by the agency run the gamut from securing disability allowances for ex-service men through aiding men to borrow on their adjusted service compensation and on government life insurance to placing the children of ex-service men's families in federal and state homes, and their wives and widows in homes.

Conduct Two Classes

Two other forms of service conducted by this agency are that of holding life saving instruction classes, and of providing a course in first aid. There is no cost for either of these courses, and they are conducted to train people to be of assistance at the time of a tragedy or near tragedy.

Life saving classes were conducted last summer at Nichols Park, and during the winter months are conducted at the MacMurray college pool for the benefit of girls seeking positions as summer camp workers. First aid classes are conducted in the colleges, and from time to time in the high school.

Dr. W. H. Newcomb is chairman of the executive committee at present, with Harry M. Capps as vice chairman, Elmer J. Henderson, treasurer, and Miss Lillian Havenhill, secretary. There are 30 members on the board of directors. Miss Alma Mackness is executive secretary.

necessary in order to know how to go about filing claims for ex-service men and their families, and in carrying these cases to completion through appeals.

Notice to Members of the Jacksonville Savings & Loan Ass'n.

Because of some inquiries we have had, we desire to make a brief statement regarding the Jacksonville Savings and Loan Association.

The nature of our business is such that our money has been loaned only on homes here in Jacksonville and we have maintained a very small balance in banks. The temporary closing of one of the banks in which we have deposited will affect us very slightly.

It is particularly fortunate that we have arranged for connection with the Federal Home Loan Bank which is for Building and Loans only.

Our funds have been safeguarded by being placed on home loans which are being paid out in monthly installments, thus assuring the maturities of our shares as usual.

Remember that money invested in Savings and Loan is as safe as the American Home.

When Scouty rode right out of sight upon the squirrel, each Tinymite that had been left behind sat down to rest a little while.

"The squirrel moves at a speedy gait," said Windy. "We'll sit here and wait till it comes back. Then we'll all ride around for 'bout a mile."

"For goodness sake," said Copy, "You think of a lot of things to do, but it is more than likely that the squirrel will be tied out."

"We'll have to let it rest a bit before we take our turns on it." And then, far in the distance, they all heard a merry shout.

"It's Scouty," shouted Duncy. "He seems just as cheerful as can be. I guess he managed to hang on despite a lot of bumps."

"I hope that we can do as well, but that is something we can't tell. I only know that little squirrel just jumps and jumps and jumps."

Then Scouty rode right into sight. He shouted, "I am quite all right. This ride I had was dandy. Who is going to follow me?"

Said Windy, "Oh, we think it best to let the kind squirrel have a rest."

The squirrel, however, said, "Oh, no! I'm fresh as fresh can be."

So all the Tinties had their fun at riding and when this was done, the squirrel exclaimed, "Let's go home. Quite a sight you'll see."

"I have two baby squirrels and they just dearly love to dance and play. The squirrels soon were brought out. They were as cute as they could be."

The Tinties crawled up on a limb and Copy said, "If they're in trim, please let them do a dance for us in the open air."

The mother squirrel replied, "All right." The dance went on, and what a sight. "My gracious," shouted

THEN

THE turkeys the Pilgrim housewives served on that first Thanksgiving, over 300 years ago, were all wild birds, shot for the occasion. Four men, we are told, hunted one whole day and brought back enough wild ducks, geese and turkeys to last almost a week.

Wouldn't these Pilgrim women be surprised if they knew that, at A & P alone, 90,000 men have been working for weeks getting ready for your Thanksgiving this year?

Thanksgiving means a lot of extra planning and preparation in the food business, just as it does in your home. But we're all ready for it now, and all stocked up with the finest holiday fare: . . . keys, cranberries, chestnuts, pumpkins, squash and everything that goes with them. In fact, we've stocked everything that we thought you might want for your Thanksgiving dinner. And we're offering bargains in all these good things—now—when you want them most.

Beware the Cough or Cold that Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

National Bank will prove only a temporary convenience in the operation of its business.

The statement signed by C. Y. Rowe, vice-president and treasurer, is:

November 21, 1932

To Our Employees:
The closing of the Ayers National Bank will effect only a temporary inconvenience in as far as The American Bankers Insurance Company is concerned.

An insurance company is not affected by the insolvency of a single banking institution because it is only one of the numerous depositories in which the American Bankers maintains its current funds.
During recent months this Company has greatly strengthened its position and has purchased only such securities as are readily convertible into cash.

Occasionally the question of life insurance safety arises and the answer is found in the fact that life contracts extend over long periods of time and that investments are carefully selected for the long pull. This company is not interested in prices obtained at forced sales, but rather in net yields over a decade.
While we are deeply concerned over the losses that must necessarily come to many of our employees who have their savings involved, you are nevertheless in the fortunate position that you have employment and that your job is secure and that you will be paid as usual.
The American Bankers Insurance Co., C. Y. Rowe, Vice President and Treasurer.

HERBERT SMITH

Herbert Smith, winner of the contest ten days ago to determine Jacksonville's choice for an audition over a NBC broadcasting station in Chicago, will broadcast over either WENR or WMAQ next Monday, November 28th at 11:30 a. m. Arrangements for the audition were completed and made known by a letter received by

Market Congregational Ch. today, 9 a. m.

Max Tschander, manager of the Fox-Ilinois theater, from the NBC Artists Staff, who arrange the programs for the stations.

Smith is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Francis E. Smith, of 619 South Prairie street, and is a senior at Jacksonville high school. His singing during the contest won the decision of the judges, but he is also an instrumental musician and plays with Clemens Dirksen's orchestra.

The contest to decide the winner of the expense-paid trip to Chicago, and the audition there, was sponsored by the Fox-Ilinois theater, where the contest was held, the Jacksonville Journal-Courier and fifteen local merchants and firms. There were twenty-five acts in the competition and much comment has been made in recognition of the good local talent brought out during the contest.

Charlie Gelbert, St. Louis Cardinal Shortstop Is Wounded While Hunting

CHARLIE GELBERT

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—(AP)—With a shattered left leg, the result of a hunting accident, Charlie Gelbert, shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals, today was raced 150 miles from Chambersburg, Pa., to a Philadelphia hospital, where he will undergo an operation.

Doctors said Gelbert's future baseball career depends on the success of the treatment.

Gelbert was accompanied in the ambulance by his mother, Mrs. Charles S. Gelbert, of Ambler, Pa., and his wife, the former Mabel Hafer, of Chambersburg.

Gelbert's condition is more serious than believed at first, attendants explained afterward, and he cannot be operated upon for three or four days—until it is known for sure that the wound is septic.

"Although we hope Charlie will be all right again in time for the baseball season, his wound is serious, and there is no need of minimizing it," Dr. H. F. Ewing said.

Dr. A. B. Webster added that the shot "came into his leg, smashed the fibula bone, and cut some nerves and a blood vessel."

"We will try to graft some nerves in there," Dr. Webster declared, adding:

"If there is no septic poisoning, I hope everything will be all right. It is not just a question of saving the foot, which we believe we can do, but

CAGE OFFICIALS COACHES AT MEET

H. V. Porter, Assistant Manager of I. H. S. A., Conducts Rules Meeting Here—Officials to Be Counting Wizards This Year.

Officials, coaches and basketball players of this legislative district of the Illinois High School Athletic Association gathered last night in larger numbers than ever before to attend the annual rules discussion and interpretations meeting held in the west study hall of the Newton Bateman memorial, where they learned that officials this year are going to be counting wizards. The officials will have to learn to count to three, to five and to ten and know when to shift from one count to the other, aside from watching the game.

However, there is a possibility that the team second rule, which involves the offense team when it has the ball in the back court, will be abolished. Ballots have been sent out from the main office of the I. H. S. A. in a referendum vote on the problem of whether this rule shall be tossed in the junk pile for this year, or whether it shall be retained in one of its three suggested forms. The decision will be made Saturday.

A straw vote, taken at the meeting last night, indicated that the rule will be thrown aside.

H. V. Porter, assistant manager of the association, conducted the meeting, using motion pictures and detailed explanation to drive the points home. It was the first visit Mr. Porter made to this city for some time.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Football teams were laid away for the winter by Illinois Wesleyan of Bloomington, 1932 champion of the Little Nineteen, McKendree College of Lebanon, runner-up, and fifteen other downstate college eleven teams today, but fans at Monmouth and Galesburg prepared for the season's most thrilling exhibition from their standpoint.

Knox and Monmouth will meet on the latter's gridiron for their 48th game at Thanksgiving day. Although the conference standing cannot be materially changed, this game will be a tight to the finish between two rivals whose annual traditional match has no equal within the conference.

The Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Association gridiron title changed hands from Monmouth to Wesleyan Saturday. It was the first time the Titans had the crown since 1901.

Cochman Norman Elliott's Methodist achieved their goal by a thrilling assault on Shurtleff of Alton at Bloomington. The score, 33 to 0, hardly represented the excitement of the game which marked the final rout of the pioneers, who early in the season had set the Little Nineteen pace.

At the same time, the McKendree Bears were downing another one-time leader, Coach Arthur Dooley's team from State Normal 6 to 0. Augustana College of Rock Island won third place in the standing by defeating Lake Forest 26 to 13.

Wesleyan's championship team won six conference games, defeating Shurtleff, Southern State Teachers, Millikin, Eureka, Bradley Tech and Normal. The Titans lost their only game to two non-conference foes—DePaul and Michigan State.

McKendree won five conference games and never was beaten. Augustana never was defeated either, but the Swedes' record was marred by a tie with Monmouth.

Besides these feature contests Saturday was the 7 to 6 victory Bradley Tech achieved over Millikin. This victory put the Peorians in fifth place in the standing. Carbondale Southern Teachers won their first game, defeating Eastern Teachers 25 to 0. Macomb Western Teachers and Carthage battled to a 9 to 9 tie. It was the third tie game this season for Carthage. The Illinois-Eureka game was cancelled because of snow and cold weather. St. Viator and Missouri School of Mines fought to a scoreless tie in the mud at Rolla.

Although the Knox-Monmouth game is the Thanksgiving feature, Hanover of Indiana will play at Charleston Thursday and Cornell and Bradley Tech will give Peoria fans something to do on the holiday.

Berry, Illinois Star, Given Place On All-Conference 11; Newman Is Unanimous Choice

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The all-star Big Ten football teams assembled at the Associated Press football banquet and outstanding critics for 1932.

First Team—Moss, Purdue; Wells, Minnesota; K. Kabat, Wisconsin; Bernard, Michigan; C. Gallus, Ohio State; Rosequist, Ohio State; Williamson, Michigan; Newman, Michigan; Hinchman, Ohio State; Eberly, Illinois; Horstmann, Purdue, lb.

Second Team—Robinson, Minnesota; Wistert, Michigan; Letsinger, Purdue; Oehler, Purdue; C. Varner, Ohio State; Cassels, Chicago; Petoskey, Michigan; Purdie, Purdue; McGuire, Wisconsin; Purvis, Purdue; Manders, Minnesota, lb.

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Ohio State's star player, the all-star Big Ten football team this year.

Although engaged in an erratic season, the Buckeyes tied Michigan in placing players on the all-star team selected for the Associated Press by coaches, landing three berths in the line and one in the backfield. Newman, a player while the other three positions went to outstanding aces from Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota.

Northwestern, which placed three players on the 1931 all-star eleven and two of them on the all-American team, failed to land a berth. Ernest Purdie, a senior, was the only Northwestern player to receive a vote for "re-election" and this was for the second year.

Another stalwart on last year's all-conference team, Jack Manders of Minnesota, lost out by a narrow margin to Roy Horstmann, Purdue's yard-garage man.

Harry Newman, spark plug of Michigan's title drive, was the only unanimous choice of the coaches, who selected Purdue's drop kicking ace, Phil Pardner, for the quarterback of the second team. Paul Moss of Purdue and Ivan Williamson, Michigan, were heavy favorites for the fullback position.

This is how the first team stacked up in weight and winning performance.

Left end, Paul Moss, Purdue, Moss, a 185-pounder in a six foot two inch frame, was one of the best wingmen in the Big Ten. His history, he did everything brilliantly, catching passes of the short or long variety, kicking on an equal with the best in football, and playing a sensational defensive game. A senior, Moss comes from Terre Haute, Ind.

Left tackle, Marshall Wells, Minnesota, a Minnesota boy, who made good at home, weighing 210 pounds and standing six feet two inches, Wells was a bulwark of Minnesota's defense and offense. Probably his greatest game came in defeat—at Wisconsin. Wells also is a senior.

Left halfback, K. Kabat, Wisconsin. Although Kabat won an all-conference berth in 1931 and was captain of his team, he did not clinch a regular berth on Wisconsin's eleven until mid-season, but when he did get going, nothing stopped him and his versatility as kick-off man, punter, pass

WHITE HALL WILL PLAY CARROLLTON

Own Field Plowed Up and Sowed to Grass—Thanksgiving Day Game Will Be Played at Carrollton Beginning at 2 p. m.

White Hall, Nov. 21.—(Special)—White Hall high school football field went under the plow here during the past week, and as a result, the game with Carrollton, scheduled for the White Hall field on Thanksgiving day, will be played on the Carrollton high school field. Decision to change the site of the game was reached on Monday afternoon.

Each team has won four victories in the past nine years, one game ending in a scoreless tie. White Hall, because of its thrilling battle with Rockhouse on Armistice day, appears to be the favorite this year, but it has been the favorite on past occasions, and has come out on the short end of the score.

The game will wind up football affairs in Greene county for the season. Here is the record of the teams over the past nine years:

1923—White Hall 6; Carrollton 0.
1924—Carrollton 15; White Hall 12.
1925—Carrollton 13; White Hall 0.
1926—White Hall 38; Carrollton 0.
1927—Carrollton 14; White Hall 0.
1928—White Hall 34; Carrollton 0.
1929—White Hall 19; Carrollton 6.
1930—Carrollton 19; White Hall 6.
1931—White Hall 0; Carrollton 0.

INDEES WILL PLAY TWO GAMES TONIGHT

Frank Smith's Indies will play a double header basketball game on the Liberty Hall court tonight, meeting the Ruble Chevrolet of Franklin and the B. and B. Cagers of Springfield.

The Indies are planning an extensive basketball schedule this winter, playing on Tuesday and Thursday nights and on Sunday afternoons.

Crimsons Spend First Day Getting Lined-Up; Routt to Have Heavy Card for Team

Basketball squads at Jacksonville the college would be forced to drop golf and tennis next spring as the result of tying up the funds of the athletic department in the closing of the bank. Golf will be the first to be taken off the program, he said, with tennis second. If necessary, track also will be discontinued, with baseball the last to go.

Van Meter went ahead with the plans for his basketball season, continuing to iron out the kinks in the schedule. There are several games more or less tentatively booked, but now that arrangements have been completed to use the Illinois School for the Deaf gymnasium for contests, these contracts are being rushed through.

At present the squad is divided into two sections, with one squad reporting after school each evening, and the other squad after dinner each night. The coach was not prepared to state yesterday just how long this arrangement will continue.

Capt. Dopey Woods has not reported for the squad as yet, giving a pulled tendon in his leg, sustained in football, plenty of time to heal properly.

Routt's squad, with three positions to fill, was in the midst of detailing up their team last night, their first of official practice. Augie DiCenso and George Genetos were the only two members of the varsity squad of last year returning to the team this year, but there are a host of substitutes from last year's organization on hand.

Clancy Bestdik, Quinlan, Dufner, Henry, Reichart, Loeferman, Schumm, Blesse, Rexroat, Buben and Keating are men from last year's squad who team up with the two veterans to form this year's squad.

The Rockets are facing a heavy schedule this year. Athletic Director Phil Newman has arranged for 21 games already, and there is a possibility that three more games will be added to the card. Two games have been scheduled with Spalding of Peoria, two with Trinity of Bloomington, two with University High of Normal, two with Cathedral of Belleville, two with East St. Louis, Catholic High, two with I. S. D. and two with Taylorville.

Under present plans, the Rocket varsity will practice from 4 until 6 o'clock every night, and the freshman squad, which is designed to build up material for promotion to the varsity, will drill from 6 until 7:30. The senior squad probably will have use of the Liberty hall court for two evenings a week. The last two mentioned squads will not be organized for several weeks.

Will Drop Minor Sports.
Athletic Director Van Meter said yesterday that it was possible that

FOOTBALL BATTLES TO FINISH SEASON

Brown and Colgate, Only Undeclared and United Teams in East to Play Army.

By Herbert W. Barker.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The thundering football herd sweeps down the home stretch this week with an exception double-barralled program that virtually writes finis to the 1932 campaign.

Thanksgiving Day's contests and those of the following Saturday are written into the records only a few scattering important games will remain to be played before uniforms are packed away for another season. But this week's salvo from football's big guns will be an impressive one—a fine array of important struggles headed by such pairings as Army-Notre Dame, Brown-Colgate, Pitt-Stanford, Alabama-Vanderbilt, Tennessee-Kentucky, Georgia-Georgia Tech, Penn-Cornell and Texas Christian-Southern Methodist.

Coming up to one of the final mileposts, here's how the situation shapes up in the country's major conferences:

East—Brown and Colgate, only unbeaten and untied teams in the section, battle at Providence with probable recognition as eastern champion awaiting the winner. Penn and Cornell, New York University and Carnegie Tech, West Virginia and Washington & Jefferson are other leading Thanksgiving Day rivals. On Saturday, Army will meet Notre Dame at the Yankee Stadium here. Pitt, undefeated but twice tied, will face Stanford, and Boston College and Holy Cross will get together in their annual meeting.

South—With Auburn, heir-apparent to the conference throne idle until its closing game with South Carolina Dec. 3, interest will center on the Thanksgiving Day games between Alabama and Vanderbilt and Tennessee and Kentucky, and on the Georgia-Georgia Tech duel at Atlanta Saturday. Other conference contests will involve Mississippi and Mississippi State, Virginia and North Carolina, North Carolina State and South Carolina, Virginia Military and Virginia Poly on Thursday, an Duke and Washington, Lee, and Tulane and Louisiana State Saturday. Louisiana State can close an unbeaten conference season by trimming Tulane.

Southwest—Texas Christian should clinch the championship in Saturday's game with Southern Methodist. Rice and Baylor play the same day, while Texas and Texas A. and M.

will collide Thanksgiving Day when Arkansas tackles Centenary's undefeated and untied array which already holds decisions over Southwest Conference foes.

Pacific Coast—Southern California should huddle its final conference foe, Washington, but the other, University of California at Los Angeles, may run into trouble with Washington State. Oregon plays St. Mary's Gaels in the only other leading game, all three of which will be played Thursday.

Big Six—Nebraska, which clinched the title by beating Oklahoma last week, closes its conference season Thursday against Missouri. Oklahoma will play George Washington at Washington the same day.

Rocky Mountain—Utah already has won the championship for the first successive year. Denver and Colorado Aggies play Thanksgiving Day, and Colorado College and Colorado Mines Saturday. Brigham Young plays South Dakota in an interconference game Thursday.

Big Ten—Season closed Saturday with Michigan crowned champion by virtue of a 3-0 victory over Minnesota. Purdue, swamping Indiana, finished second with only the Northwestern tie spoiling an otherwise perfect record.

JUSTICE WILL MOVE SWIFTLY FOR KILLERS

Bert's own confession, signed at Mt. Carroll and made public by the prosecutors here today, read in part:

"I asked my grandmother, Mrs. Saxe, to use her car and she slapped me. A hammer was lying on the table and I picked it up and struck her on the car. I hit her several times as I had gone mad. She was still breathing and I stretched her out on the floor. When she stopped breathing and I knew she was dead, I left her. I took the keys to the car and went to call for a friend. Later I went back to the house and my grandmother was still on the floor. I put a rope around her and dragged her out through the kitchen to the cistern. I then dropped her into the cistern. I then got some clothes and tried to eradicate the stains. Then I got in the car and ran away."

While his parents mourned at the funeral of the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Saxe, alienists studied the boy.

Dr. James Whitney Hall was one of these. He said Bert had an inferiority complex and "imperative conception."

"An imperative conception," he explained, "is an uncontrollable desire, usually temporary, which causes normal persons to do something irrational. Some persons are afflicted this way when looking down from tall buildings and have a desire to leap. It is not always present in insane persons and sane persons may be so afflicted. His inferiority complex, which is very apparent, also had something to do with the crime."

MICHIGAN HAS EYE ON WEST

Wolverines Would Like to Make Trip West to Battle Southern California in Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—(AP)—A championship Michigan football team, the minds of its members on gold footballs that signify the victors of the western conference, couldn't stop talking about football today—and their thoughts turned to a possible invitation to meet Southern California on New Year's day at Pasadena.

Although the Michigan student body and the Michigan football team were heartily in favor of the rose bowl game for their undefeated eleven they were willing to admit the pathway to Pasadena is strewn with barriers.

First of all, they haven't had an invitation to the annual tournament. Secondly, there is a firm rule in the big ten forbidding post-season football games. And finally, there is the opposition expressed a month ago by Faculty representative, Dr. J. W. Fisher, Michigan's faculty members say western conference alumni on the Pacific coast began campaigning to bring Michigan to the tournament of roses a month ago. Yet at that time the plan, which he has not now definitely expressed himself, the student body believes he is inclined at the present to favor such a trip, if the conference officials will permit it.

Prof. Ralph W. Fisher, chairman of the board of control of athletics and faculty representative in the western conference, is believed by the student body to favor the California trip, if an invitation is extended. Coach Harry Kipke and members of his team are highly favorable.

The next meeting of the faculty committee, athletics officials have said, probably will be in Chicago on Dec. 3. If the tournament committee should extend an invitation to Michigan before that time, the officials believe Michigan may ask the Big Ten permission to play at Pasadena. There is a strong belief on the Michigan campus that the Wolverines will be invited to play in the rose bowl on New Year's day.

Michigan alumni who favor the trip should the invitation be extended, remember that thirty years ago You took a Wolverine football team to the coast and triumphed over Stanford 27-0, in what is regarded as the inaugural game of the rose bowl series. They think Kipke's 1932 champions stand a fair chance to repeat that conquest.

CITY STUNNED BY NOTICE OF AYERS CLOSING MONDAY

"This bank under direction of Comptroller of Currency is in charge of John P. Lilly, National Bank Examiner. Closed by order of the Board of Directors."

This notice was posted about 9 o'clock Monday morning on all entrances to the Ayers National Bank. The story that is rocking the community is the failure of the bank to open at an early hour Monday morning. Telephone operators received first inquiries concerning the rumor about 7 o'clock.

By 9 a. m. the hour when the bank would ordinarily have opened, for business, rumors were flying thick and fast, and worried depositors sought information from every possible source. A large group gathered about the bank entrance, but there was no message for them save the brief notice on the door.

It is understood that bank deposits totaled about $7,000,000. The capital stock is $500,000. The decision to close the bank was reached, it is reported, at a late hour Saturday night.

Business in this community was actually at a standstill yesterday. Groups gathered on the streets, in houses and offices to discuss the situation. In every group were depositors of the closed bank. In fact a great majority of the people here had money on deposit.

The city funds, amounting to about $100,000 are in the Ayers bank. School funds are also in the bank. Scores of organizations had money on deposit. Funds of both Illinois and MacMurray Colleges will be affected by the closing.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE HALTED AS AYERS BANK CLOSES

Withholding any further solicitation, the Community Chest drive was at a standstill here Monday following the closing of the Ayers National Bank yesterday. Workers were called and told to return the solicitation cards and meetings of the board of directors of the Chest was called for this afternoon, at which time the campaign was tentatively called off.

Originally scheduled to open Monday, the drive was barely getting underway when word spread thru the city that the bank did not open for business Monday a. m. Approximately $4,000 had been raised toward the $20,000 goal when the impasse developed.

All of the cash funds raised last week were deposited in the Ayers National Bank on Saturday afternoon, thus leaving the Chest without a working account.

Several workers had begun working toward the campaign before word went out that all solicitation should cease until the board of directors held a meeting.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Alice McCollister, of the city, was dismissed from the hospital yesterday and is visiting at the home of Mrs. Wallace Gibbs, of Woodland Place.

Lloyd Crozier, city, was able to leave the hospital on Sunday.

Mrs. John Deere, of Franklin, visited yesterday with her niece, Cora Deere, who is a patient at the hospital.

MANCHURIAN PROBLEM UP FOR DEBATE

churian conflict was laid by the Japanese spokesman upon which he described as a disunited and disorderly China, which he declared, had provoked trouble by failing to respect Japanese rights and by its inability to give an orderly administration in Manchuria.

Dr. Koo, on the other hand, asserted that "Japan's policy of wanton aggression, expansion and conquest" was at the bottom of the whole question.

"If the Japanese version is to be believed," the Chinese delegate asserted, "their country is a meek lamb in the teeth of a ferocious China."

Japan's representative cited the American punitive expedition of 1916 in Mexico as a fair precedent for Japan's attack "in legitimate self-defense" in Mukden in September, 1931.

"We have violated neither the covenant of the league, nor the nine-power treaty, nor the pact of Paris," he continued. "I ask of the council a little patience. If the western world will bestow upon us a fraction of the tolerance it has so generously bestowed upon China, it will be gratefully received."

Dr. Koo was severe in his discussion of what he termed Japan's ambition for conquest.

"A double-armed continental policy of expansion, which is the crystallization of several centuries of teaching by Japanese warriors, is aimed at China as the first stage of the conquest of Asia," he said.

"It is this policy which is the real menace to peace in the far east and is a disturbing factor in the comity of nations. Behind this policy is a dominating intractable military party, provided with one of the most powerful war machines in existence, and ever seeking its full realization by means of the mailed fist. x x x

By John L. Cooley
Associated Press Financial Writer
New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Wall Street's crystal gazers today were evidently unable to conjure up any clear picture of what was likely to happen in the foreign debt situation this week and security markets were again all but neglected.

Stocks tended to follow the lines laid down last week, that is, a slow downward drift over the course of which a bit of short covering was distributed. Closing averages today represented another small net loss, but volume far under a million shares the market could hardly be said to have departed from its current policy of watchful waiting.

Quick firmness characterized the first hour. However, any inspiration which leaders might have derived from the recent absence of selling pressure was dissipated when common began a fairly brisk decline on news of the constant decree.

Radio's extreme reaction of 2 points was assumed by many traders, especially professionals, that a substantial part of the stock to be distributed under the agreement by General Electric and Westinghouse to their shareholders would find its way to market, and pressure against this favorite of rosters days was steady.

The debt question kept prominently in the foreground, virtually to the exclusion of other market influences, but Wall Street's best guessers preferred to be non-committal, inasmuch as inkings on the probable outcome of the week's Washington conferences were so faint as to be virtually non-existent. Steady exchange viewed the prospect pessimistically, sinking to a new low for the year.

Week-end MURDER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The story opens with a paragraph in which a murder is committed by a homicidal maniac. Later he boards a train for Long Island, thinking of the pleasant week-end he is to have there. The name of the murderer is not disclosed. The story shifts to the Long Island home of LINDA and TOM AYERILL, married three years and much in love. The Ayerills have five guests for the week-end: COUSIN AMOS PEABODY, elderly, distant relative of Linda's; CAPTAIN DE VOS, handsome Belgian representing a European perfume manufacturer with whom Ayerill hopes to do business; MR. STANTON, middlewestern member of the firm Ayerill works for; MARVIN PRATT, former suitor of Linda's; and MAX SHATKIN, a first writer on a lecture tour. Cousin Amos immediately makes trouble. He quarrels with Shatkin because the Irishman holds liberal political views; plays golf with Stantander and infuriates him by criticizing his game; discusses prohibition with De Vos at the Country Club and declares De Vos is "no gentleman." It is finally agreed that Cousin Amos is to leave the house on Saturday night. The others go to the Country Club dance. The dance is uneventful but there are no ready-made leave Stantander can not be found. When he finally appears it is apparent that he has been drinking. It is nearly morning when the Ayerills and their guests reach home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

TOM AYERILL frowned. "Gosh, there we go again talking about the—what did you call them—'potential murderers'?"

"I wish I never had to see any one of them again," Linda said dejectedly.

"Oh, come, Bunk! It isn't as bad as that. A few hours of sleep—"

"A few hours? How you do expect to get any sleep, Tom? We've got to get Cousin Amos off early. Early for him—that's even worse!"

"How soon? It's after 5 now."

"In about an hour. He gets up about half-past 6 or 7 anyhow and he wants to take a 7-something train. That means 6 today."

Tom whistled silently. Then he began undressing. "Bunks," he said, "go to bed. I'll see the old fellow off and tell him you're all yellow."

"Thanks, but that wouldn't do. It's my job and I'll send him away with a smile. I wouldn't sleep anyhow. Tom, I'd have him on my mind."

"Say—here's an idea! Get out of those things and into your bathing suit. This room's an oven and a cool dip'll do you more good than lying down. If you'll fling on a few clothes and see that he gets breakfast I'll run him to the station and you can go to bed then. I doubt if anyone else shows his face before noon."

She was already scrambling into the pert little red jersey suit that made her look so boyish and slim.

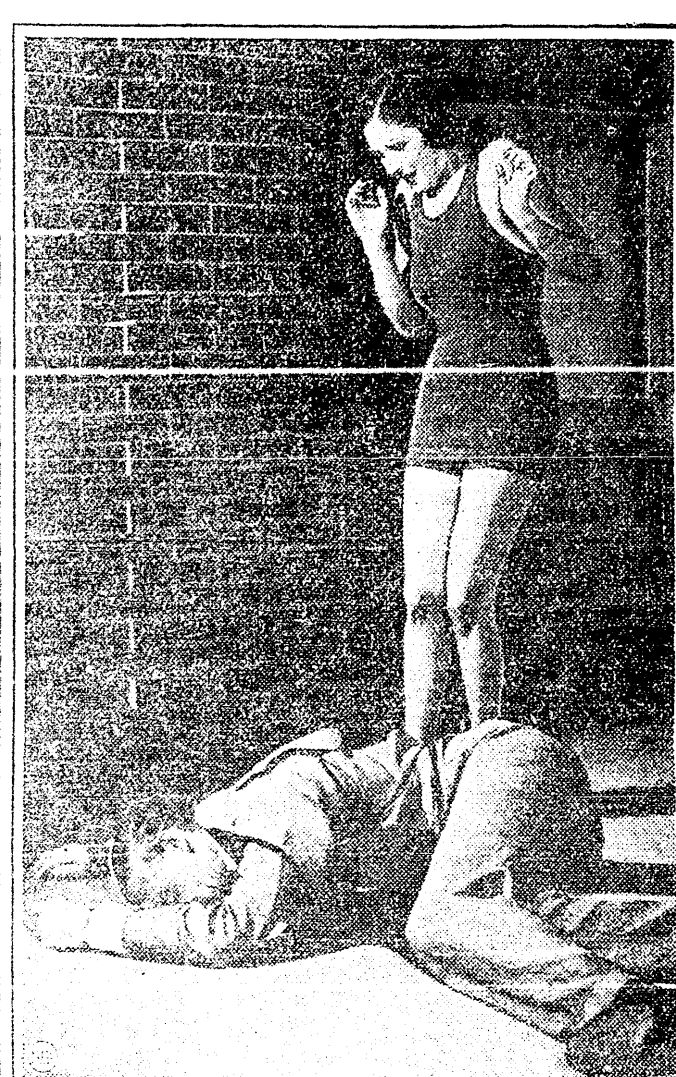

"I'm with you, Tommy! It's a grand idea. Think any of the others—?"

"Leave 'em out. Two's company, this time and they're all asleep by now, anyhow. 'Come on!'"

"Wait—I can't find my cap. You go on—it's here somewhere. I'll be right behind you."

The cap was found and Linda stopped to pick up the soft, crumpled, lacy dress which still lay where she had stepped out of it on the floor.

FROM somewhere down the hall came a light creaking tread—the hushed sound of one who walks quietly for fear of disturbing others. It was followed by a slight click and then to her ears came distinctly the wrak-wrak-wrak of Cousin Amos' defiantly opened casement giving on the little porch. She relaxed. Evidently her cousin was already about, wakened by the light and the still, heavy heat. Also evidently he did not want to disturb any of them and Linda decided to pretend she had not heard.

From above came hurtling a figure—headfirst—turning in the air, not two feet from where she stood—to crumple at her very feet.

But in the hall, she realized, Cousin Amos hadn't had much pleasure from his stay; and he had so enjoyed the water yesterday! Since no one else was coming, why not at least ask him? At his room door she stopped in surprise—it was about a foot ajar. She remembered that he had not left it open during the night. Then she thought of the step she had heard in the hall. Curious he should go outside his room so early. He had his own lavatory and could have done without a tub for once in his life. If he had gone across the hall she hoped fervently he hadn't either met or disturbed Marvin or De Vos, both tired, sleepy and hot and therefore edgy after the Country Club affair. They were safely in bed by now and she hoped, deaf to Cousin Amos' curious, if inexpressible, rambling in the hall.

But she wondered, had he gone back to bed or was he actually up and dressed so early? Hesitating whether to knock or not, she unintentionally pushed the door a little more widely open and could not help seeing the bed—empty, rumpled, the covers thrown back. Feeling very apologetic, she opened her lips to call him softly. Then, to her astonishment, she heard voices inside the room. Linda stood very still, puzzled. No, they were not exactly in the room. The sudden wrak-wrak-wrak of that beastly door placed them—just over the sill out on the little porch.

WHO could it be? Tom, probably, smitten with the same idea and having stopped to invite Cousin Amos to join them, called in by the indignant old man to account for the noise and swing of the door. Cousin Amos, of course, would forget entirely his insistence on opening it, in spite of her express request that he should not. Well—let Tom bear the brunt of displeasure! Perhaps he could brace it somehow to stop it for the moment. A sudden appalling squeal filled her with renewed alarm lest the sound disturb Marvin Pratt or De Vos. Both of them, she knew, had had all they wanted of Cousin Amos! In fact she had promised that the Belgian, at least, should not even see again the man who had so affronted him. She pulled the room door gently to until it all but latched and made her escape untried, running downstairs rather amused than otherwise at Tom's plight.

But the door on the terrace was open and as she came out into the early sun, she saw a white-backed jersey rising and falling in rhythmic strokes as a familiar figure headed out from shore. Tom, no doubt of it—tired of waiting for her and apparently striking out for distant Connecticut. She prepared to emit the piercing yodel with which she was wont to signal him and checked herself only just in time as she remembered the hour. But if not Tom, who was upstairs with Cousin Amos?

A slight scuffle of feet over her head on the little balcony startled her. Could the old man have had a fainting spell—a stroke perhaps? There was something strange about that subdued, shuffling sound! If only Tom, swimming away from her so unconcernedly, would turn so that she could wave him back!

Over her head there was a quick jumble of steps, an exclamation, and suddenly a crackling, rending, tearing sound. From above came hurtling a figure—headfirst—turning in the air, not two feet from where she stood, rooted and horrified, under the projecting balcony—to crumple in sickening distortion at her very feet. A white hand moved feebly, a face turned toward her. Cousin Amos! A step forward, and she was kneeling beside him, trembling, vaguely something that drama, white face, breathlessly gasping his name. The eyelids quivered and the blue, childlike eyes looked up at her at first blindly, then with dazed recognition.

"Linda!" She bent down for the painful whisper. "Over—over—"

"Yes, darling—you fell over—"

"No. He...threw—"

ASK TREASURER ACCOUNTS OF CITY BE EXAMINED

City Council Votes to Investigate Affairs Following Closing of Ayers Bank

The city council at its regular meeting Monday evening passed by a viva voce vote a motion to empower the mayor, the city attorney and the finance committee of the council to investigate the accounts of the city treasurer, H. C. Clement. The motion followed a discussion of the city finance situation in view of the closing of the Ayers National Bank.

The treasurer's report as of October 31, showed a balance in the general fund of $22,421.10, with a total balance in all funds of $141,409.99. The finance committee reported no money to use in paying bills, and Mayor Reeve stated that the closing of the bank has put the city in an embarrassing position. If the situation does not work itself out, he said, the city may have to issue emergency warrants and sell them to get funds.

City Attorney Bellatti was asked to advise the city in regard to the financial situation. He stated that he knew little more than did members of the council regarding the matter, but that he thought some investigation should be made as to the condition of the city funds. The council formulated and passed the motion authorizing the investigation.

The report of the health department for October showed 55 deaths and 23 births occurring within the registration district. Jacksonville had 87 cases of communicable disease of which 59 were chicken pox and 21 scarlet fever. The matter of changing the zoning ordinance for the territory along East Morton avenue was deferred to a future meeting. A delegation of citizens was present to argue for and against the proposed changes in the ordinance. This was also deferred. This was done because of the absence of Alderman Day, who is confined to his home by illness.

The ordinance revising the regulations as to sewer connections and other sanitary matters within the city was also deferred on request of Alderman Blesse.

The city clerk read to the council a lease drawn between the city and the Richardson Lubricating Co. for a plot 33 feet in frontage and 129 feet deep on the brook right-of-way and South Main street. The city proposes to rent the property for the sum of $100 per year for 20 years, to be used as a driveway, the city to have the right to void the lease on six months notice when it desires to make other use of the property. The council authorized the signing of the lease, provided the company would agree to the $100 per year rental, instead of $50 a year for the first ten and $100 a year for the second ten years as originally proposed.

The Mayor in his statement regarding finances, said that the city will not have to pay bills until Dec. 1, and by that time perhaps some plan for securing a portion of the city funds now tied up in the bank may be formulated.

COLLEGE WILL REMAIN OPEN SAYS J. G. AMES

Closing of Illinois College Has Not Been Considered Says President

Illinois College will remain open for the remainder of the year, and for all of next year and probably for a good many years to come, Acting President John Griffith Ames stated yesterday when asked for his opinion regarding the turn of events which caused the Ayers National bank to close its doors.

"Closing the college has not been considered," the acting president stated. He had nothing to say about the meeting of the board of trustees which was held Sunday. The acting president said, however, that the college would be able to meet its payroll this month, and as far as he knew would be able to meet it during the remainder of the scholastic year. The economic situation, he added, he said, but nothing drastic is contemplated. "We will make every effort to live within our budget," he concluded.

Meanwhile, in the athletic department, whose funds also were tied up by the bank failed to open its doors, plans were made for the basketball and baseball seasons. The athletic department had just completed paying off the last of the notes which had been hanging over since the night lighting plant was purchased a few years ago, and was planning the meeting of the board to approve payment of numerous other bills.

TELEPHONE CALLS NUMBER 27,311 DURING MONDAY

Operators at Local Switchboard Experience Busiest Day in History

More than 27,000 telephone calls were made through the switchboard of the Illinois Telephone company between the hours of 9:30 o'clock Monday morning and 9 o'clock in the evening. It was reported by telephone company officials yesterday. The busiest hour was between 9:30 o'clock and 10:30 o'clock in the morning, when 4,997 calls were answered. One girl answered 600 calls in an hour. The total calls between 9:30 and 9 were 27,311.

Carrying the biggest load in its history, the Illinois Telephone Company switchboard burned out fuses, caused delicate relays to become overheated almost to the burning point, and brought out all of the operators Monday as the news of the closing of the Ayers National bank spread like wildfire over the city and country. Twelve operators, working like they have never worked before, spread a vast cobweb of connections over the twenty-foot long board, facing an almost impossible task of ringing every telephone listed in the directory from one to five times.

Beginning at 7:30 in the morning when word first leaked out that the bank would not open, the switchboard became a mass of flickering lights as interested persons hastened to tell friends of the developments.

Especially busy were the phones in the "100 block," the block devoted to handling calls to and from the business district, and from the business district to other parts of the city. Call relief operators.

Frank Insley, traffic manager for the company, ordered all relief operators to report shortly after nine o'clock when it became apparent that there would be no let up in the load. An hour later the load was still as heavy as at 8 o'clock, and more operators were ordered to report.

Ordinarily handled by five operators during the early hours of the morning, the twelve operators were totally unable to cope with the situation. They were too busy at the start of the rush to check the number of calls, but established their checking system at 9:30 o'clock.

The local board is one of the few of its type in use. Every operator is within reach of every phone connection listed in the directory, thus being able to make a connection without the assistance of another operator. Flying fingers, trained in the manipulation of the connecting cords, were flying faster than ever to take care of the enormous flood of calls. The cobweb spread over the board all through the morning, and gave no indication of letting up at noon.

Because of the enormous load, operators were not required to stay at the board any longer than half an hour without relief. Short relief periods were granted, with relief operators stepping in to avoid "mental tiredness" on the part of the operators.

NO WITHDRAWALS ON TWO BANKS IN CITY MONDAY

New Accounts Opened at Elliott State Bank and Farmers State Bank Here

While the shock of the closing of the Ayers National bank was felt through the city and county yesterday, the Elliott state bank and the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company conducted business as usual, and at no time was there an indication of panicky depositors seeking to withdraw their money. In fact there were more new accounts opened at the two institutions than there were withdrawals.

Officials at both banks remarked on the calmness of their depositors, and both institutions stand ready to pay any and all demands upon them. An armored car arrived at the Elliott bank from St. Louis yesterday bringing a large sum of money as a precaution against a possible "run," but at this institution any unusual activity noted there was that of local business men and others opening up accounts.

Officers of the Elliott Bank state that they have stood ready for two years to pay every depositor, the amount of the deposit being made, and they are prepared to make payment to depositors now. They state that their business has been built on years of sound banking principles and it has been their purpose to see that their depositors were protected at all times.

There were not the demonstrations seen yesterday following the closing of the Ayers National Bank that have taken place in other cities where there have been bank failures. Small groups of persons were to be found in various places on the streets and in business houses of the city quietly discussing the bank closing, but there were no large gatherings anywhere.

While Ayers Bank depositors will be inconvenienced thru the temporary loss of their money the remaining banks in the city are not affiliated in any way with the closed institution and business can go ahead.

Coultas, chairman of the Household Science department, sponsor of the program, who introduced Miss Margaret Brooks, of Springfield, for a review of the play, "Green Eyes." # People Must Keep Cool and Carry on

The City of Jacksonville and the surrounding community have received a severe blow in the closing of the Ayers National Bank; there is no question about that. But the crisis calls for coolness and sanity, and firm confidence in the future; for the record of bank closings in this section is, that the depositor in the long run loses very little.

The two remaining banks in Jacksonville reported Monday that they are in sound condition. They had very few withdrawals during the day, which speaks well for the calmness and good judgment which always characterize the people of this community. The record shows that the Waverly bank, which closed sometime ago, has paid the depositors 70 cents on the dollar; the White Hall bank paid practically much of its deposits; the bank at Manchester is paying out practically a hundred cents on the dollar.

It is the duty of creditors to be lenient with those who now have no available funds. Already men who owe money have frankly stated their condition, and that is the thing to do. They have been met by their creditors with a sincere spirit of co-operation and a willingness to let the tangled meshes of finance work themselves out as best they may. This is a time when brotherly kindness and genuine courage will no more than anything else to weather the storm.

This city has nothing to fear for the future. Its greatest wealth is not in its money, but in its people. It is up to the people to keep their heads, face the facts without passion or prejudice, make the best of the situation, and Carry On.
